This is up to you! Everyone has their own individual pace. So, based on the pace you choose to build your business, your income grows accordingly. Then our middle management level called Group Leader, pays an average of $36,000 per year which is attainable in 1-2 years. One of our top positions pays over $245,000 on the average and is attainable in 3-4 years (although some have done this sooner). What could you do with $245,000 per year?

The worst thing that could happen is not to try it. You have the perfect opportunity to be your own boss without risk or investment. Had I not tried it, I would not have been able to have all those wonderful extras that extra income provides. You begin to earn income from day 1 and even if you decide to stop, you will still be ahead of the game because you will not have invested any money and would have gained income, product, and great new friends. PartyLite® has the highest consultant retention rate, the highest paid consultants, and the highest show averages.
